Certain of the men left their quarters at the guns and, cuff and pistol in hand, led by Jones himself, swarmed over the rail and on the poop of the Juno.

"Do you surrender?" cried Jones. "No, you rebel!" answered the foremost, in the uniform of an officer, crossing swords with him gallantly, but in a moment the sword of the impetuous American beat down his guard and was buried in his breast.

"Where is Captain Burden?" cried the officer. "Dead," replied the wounded first lieutenant in a hollow voice. "Did you strike?" "Yes."

"What was the ship with which you fought?" "The American ship Ranger, Captain John Paul Jones. He says he will see you in the English channel. Heavens, Lawless, isn't this awful? Three-fourths of ours are dead or wounded!"

"The cursed rebel captured the Mellish; we ranged alongside at quarters; they got in the first broadside; the main topmast went, then the jib; they fell off, raked us through the stern, boarded; Jones cut down Burden with his sword; we could not get a gun to bear; they were pounding through us; we could not keep the men at quarters; we struck; they took our flag, too; then you came down, and he sheered off; then the mizenmast went. I expect the fore will go next."

"What's his force? Was it a frigate?" "I can answer that," said the brave master of the Mellish, who had gained the Juno and fought well in the fight. "She's a sloop of eighteen guns."

"Less than ours! We have twenty-two. Oh, Lawless, what a disgrace! I can't understand it. Our men did well. And she goes free, and look at us!"

"Ship is making water fast. We can't get at the fire forward, either, sir," reported one of the Juno's officers.

"Can't we save the ship?" queried Lieutenant Lawless of the Acasta. "No. It will be as much as we can do to get off the wounded, I fear."

"Back," cried Lawless, turning to the cutter in which they had come. "To the Acasta, and tell her to send all her boats alongside. This ship is a perfect wreck. She must sink in a few minutes. We have hardly time to get the wounded off. Live! Bear a hand for your lives, men!"

However, in spite of all that could be done by willing and able hands, some of the helpless men were still on board when the Juno pitched forward suddenly and then sank bow foremost into the dark waters, carrying many of her gallant defenders into the deep with her. Among them on the quarter deck lay the body of the dead captain, the sword which the magnanimity of his conqueror had lent to him lying by his side.

And this was war upon the sea! "There are times when great fit-

A ROAR OF ACCLAIM

Greeted the Nomination of Theodore Roosevelt at Chicago Today.

FAST THROUG CHEERS

When the Party's Choice For President Was Named the Vaulted Roof of the Coliseum Rang.

It is Now Practically Assured That Senator Fairbanks Will Have Second Place.

Chicago, June 23.—With vociferous acclaim and with a unanimity that had long been assured, the Republican party in delegate convention assembled this afternoon nominated as its choice for president, Theodore Roosevelt. The scenes attending the nomination were necessarily, by the very

EX-GOVERNOR FRANK S. BLACK.

Gentlemen, I nominate for President of the United States the highest living type of the youth, the vigor and the promise of a great country and a great age, Theodore Roosevelt of New York."

Seconding speeches were made by many state representatives, one of the most brilliant of these speeches being the one made by Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana, who said: "Theodore Roosevelt, like William McKinley, is the nominee of the American freeds. So were Washington and Jefferson in the early time; so was Andrew Jackson when he said: 'The Union: It must be preserved'; so was Abraham Lincoln when, the republic saved, he bade us 'bind up the nation's wounds'; and Grant when, from victory's very summit his lofty words, 'let us have peace' voiced the spirit of the hour and the people's prayer. When nominated by parties, each of these great presidents was, at the periods named, already chosen by the public judgment. And so today the Republican party, whose strength is in its obedience to the will of the American people, merely executes again the decree which comes to it from the American home in naming Theodore Roosevelt as our candidate."

The nomination of Senator Charles Warren Fairbanks of Indiana as the party's choice for vice president, was practically assured when Illinois yesterday afternoon withdrew the name of its favorite son, Congressman Hitt, and if the present program is carried out, United States Senator Jonathan P. Dolliver of Iowa will place Senator Fairbanks in nomination. Alabama, the first state in the roll-call, will yield to Iowa when the call begins, and Dolliver will receive recognition. It is expected that no other name will be presented to the convention, and as the roll of states is called each will second the nomination of the senior senator from Indiana. Then somebody will move to make it unanimous, and the work of the convention will be at an end.

Chairman Cannon called the convention to order today at noon, and the third day's session was opened with prayer by Rev. Thaddeus A. Snively. The call was then made for presidential nominations, and former Governor Frank S. Black of New York was recognized.

Ex-Governor Black said: "The country and the town have vied with each other in sending here their tributes to this splendid throng. Every highway in the land is leading here and crowded with the members of that great party which sees in this splendid city the symbol of its rise and power. Within this unexampled multitude is every rank and condition of free men, every creed and occupation. But today a common purpose and desire have engaged us all, and from every nook and corner of the country rises but a single choice to fill the most exalted office in the world. He is no stranger waiting in the shade to be called suddenly into public light. The American people have seen him for many years and always where the fight was thickest and the greatest need was felt. He has been alike conspicuous in the pursuits of peace and in the arduous stress of war. No man now living will forget the spring of '98, when the American mind was so inflamed and American patriotism so aroused; when some of the eager citizens surging to the front as soldiers, the man whom this convention has already in its heart was among the first to hear the call and answer to his name. His qualities do not need to be retold, for no man in that exalted place since Lincoln has been better known in every household in the land."

"Whether we wish it or not, America is abroad in this world. Her interests are in every street, her name is on every tongue. Those interests, so sacred and stupendous, should be entrusted only to the care of those whose power, skill and courage have been tested and approved. And in the man whom you will choose, the highest sense of every nation in the world beholds a man who typifies as no other living American does, the spirit and the purposes of the twentieth century. He does not claim to be the Solomon of his time. There are many things he may not know, but this is sure—that above all things else he stands for progress, courage and fair play, which are the synonyms of the American name."

"There are times when great fitness is hardly less than destiny, when the elements so come together that they select the agent they will use. Events sometimes select the strongest man, as lightning goes down the highest rod. And so it is with those events which for many months with unerring sight have led you to a single name which I am chosen only to pronounce:

EX-GOVERNOR FRANK S. BLACK.

Gentlemen, I nominate for President of the United States the highest living type of the youth, the vigor and the promise of a great country and a great age, Theodore Roosevelt of New York."

Seconding speeches were made by many state representatives, one of the most brilliant of these speeches being the one made by Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana, who said: "Theodore Roosevelt, like William McKinley, is the nominee of the American freeds. So were Washington and Jefferson in the early time; so was Andrew Jackson when he said: 'The Union: It must be preserved'; so was Abraham Lincoln when, the republic saved, he bade us 'bind up the nation's wounds'; and Grant when, from victory's very summit his lofty words, 'let us have peace' voiced the spirit of the hour and the people's prayer. When nominated by parties, each of these great presidents was, at the periods named, already chosen by the public judgment. And so today the Republican party, whose strength is in its obedience to the will of the American people, merely executes again the decree which comes to it from the American home in naming Theodore Roosevelt as our candidate."

THE PLATFORM

Principles Upon Which the Republican Party Will Stand.

Fifty years ago the Republican party came into existence dedicated among other things to the great task of arresting the extension of human slavery. In 1860 it elected its first president. During twenty-four of the forty-four years which have elapsed since the election of Lincoln the Republican party has held complete control of the government. For eighteen years of the forty-four years it has had no less than a majority in both houses of Congress. It has held the possession of one or two branches of the government, while the Democratic party, during the same period, has held no more than a minority in both houses of Congress. This long tenure of power by the Republican party is not due to any special favor or privilege. It is due to the fact that the Republican party has represented the interests of the American people for nearly two generations to the exclusion of all other parties, and has displayed a high capacity for rule and government which has been made even more conspicuous by the incapacity and inefficiency of its opponents.

The Republican party entered upon its present term of office in 1897, and in 1897, we have every right to congratulate ourselves upon the work since then accomplished, for it has added to the traditions of the party which carried the government through the storms of the civil war. We found the country after four years of Democratic rule in evil plight, oppressed with misfortune and doubt of the future. The public credit had been lowered, the revenues were declining, the debt was growing, the administration's attitude toward Spain was feeble and uncertain, the standard of values was threatened and uncertainty, labor was unemployed, business was sunk in the depression which followed the failure of 1893, hope was faint and confidence was gone.

We met these misadventures effectively and at once. We replaced a Democratic tariff based on free trade principles and garnished with secret protection by a consistent protective tariff, and industry, freed from oppression and stimulated by the encouragement of a tariff, has prospered. We have before known, has conquered new markets and has created a volume of exports which has produced an immense and increasing demand for our goods.

Under the Dingley tariff labor has been fully employed. Wages have risen and all industries have prospered. The standard which the gold standard which was then menaced with destruction. Confidence returned to business and with confidence an unexampled prosperity.

For deficient revenues, supplemented by improvident issues of bonds, we gave the country an income which produced a large surplus and which enabled us, only four years after the Spanish war had closed, to cancel the public debt, to reduce the public debt and lower the interest charges of the government.

The public credit, which had been so lowered that in time of peace a Democratic administration was unable to pay current expenditures, rose under Republican administration to its highest point, and enabled us to borrow at 2 per cent, even in time of war.

We refused to pander longer with the miseries of Cuba. We fought a quick and victorious war with Spain. We set Cuba free, governed the island for three years and restored to the Cuban people their rights, with education and public health established, free from debt, and with ample provisions for our mutual interests.

The Philippines have been suppressed insurrection, established order and given to life and property a security never known before. We have created a large and efficient, made it effective and strong in administration, and have conferred upon the people of those islands the largest civil liberties they have ever enjoyed. By our possession of the Philippines we were enabled to take prompt and effective action in the relief of the legations at Pekin and in the preservation of the integrity of China.

being offenders to justice without regard to party or political ties.

Laws enacted by the Republican which the public interest demands their enforcement, and which were intended for the protection of the public against the unjust discrimination of the illegal encroachment and the aggression of capital have been fearlessly enforced by a Republican president, and new laws insuring reasonable protection of the interests of great corporations, and providing additional remedies for the prevention of discrimination in freight rates have been passed by a Republican congress.

In this record of achievement during the last eight years may be read the pledges which the Republican party has fulfilled. We propose to continue these policies and we declare our constant adherence to the following principles:

Protection which guards and develops our industries is a cardinal policy of the Republican party. The measure of protection should always be at least equal to the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad. We insist upon the maintenance of the protective system. However special the rates of duty should be readjusted only when conditions have so changed that the public interest demands their alteration, but this work cannot safely be committed to any other hands than those of the Republican party.

To trust it to the Democratic party is to invite disaster. Whether, as in 1892, the Democratic party declared the protective tariff unconstitutional, or whether it demands tariff reform, or tariff revision, its real object is always the destruction of the protective system. However specious the name, the purpose is ever the same.

A Democratic tariff has always been followed by business prosperity. To a Republican congress and a Republican president the great question must be the maintenance of the only free trade country among the great nations of the world to protect the chief productive country should not fail in maintaining it.

We have extended widely our foreign markets, and we believe in the adoption of all practical methods for their further extension, including commercial reciprocity wherever reciprocal arrangements can be effected consistent with the principles of protection and without injury to American agriculture, American labor, or any American industry.

We believe it to be the duty of the Republican party to uphold the gold standard and the integrity and value of our national currency. The maintenance of the gold standard, established by the Republican party, cannot safely be committed to the Democratic party, which has no proof since that time of belief in it or fidelity to it.

Whichever other industry has prospered under the fostering aid of Republican legislation, American shipping engaged in foreign trade in competition with the lower cost of construction, low wages and heavy subsidies of foreign governments has not for many years received from the government of the United States adequate encouragement of any kind. We therefore favor legislation which will encourage and build up the American merchant marine, and we cordially approve the legislation of the last congress, which created the merchant marine commission to investigate and report upon this subject.

A navy powerful enough to defend the United States against any attack, to hold the Monroe doctrine and watch over our commerce is essential to the safety and the welfare of the American people. To maintain such a navy is the fixed policy of the Republican party.

We cordially approve the attitude of President Roosevelt and congress in regard to the exclusion of Chinese labor, and promise a continuance of the Republican policy in this direction.

The civil service law was placed on the statute books by the Republican party, and has since been wisely administered. We renew our former declarations that it shall be thoroughly and honestly enforced.

We favor the peaceful settlement of international differences by arbitration.

The administration of President McKinley and President Roosevelt.

We favor such congressional action as will determine the conditions of the United States. We cordially commend the policy pursued in that direction by the administrations of President McKinley and President Roosevelt.

Our great interests and our growing commerce in the Orient under the condition of China of high importance to the United States. We cordially commend the policy pursued in that direction by the administrations of President McKinley and President Roosevelt.

BANKER ARRESTED

Cashier of Defunct Angola Bank Placed Under Heavy Bond.

A LOSING DEPOSITOR

Filed the Complaint Upon Which John J. Kinney Was Placed in Detention.

He Will Have to Secure $10,000 Bond to Secure Release From Custody.

Angola, Ind., June 23.—An additional affidavit against John J. Kinney, ex-cashier of the exploded Kinney bank, has been filed by A. E. Elston, a losing depositor; and thereupon the prosecuting attorney filed a second information, charging Kinney with embezzlement. As in the first instance, bail was fixed at $5,000, and as matters now stand, he must give $10,000 before he can be released from custody. The Steuben circuit court will not be in session till next September, and the case against Kinney cannot be tried till then.

MURDERER BREAKING DOWN

Ben Springs Collapses in the Shadow of the Gallows.

Terre Haute, Ind., June 23.—Ben Springs, the negro sentenced to be hanged Friday, July 1, is breaking down, according to information received from the Michigan City prison. A prison official told a visiting sheriff that when the hour came Springs would be unable to walk to the scaffold. When he was taken to the prison a few weeks ago he was utterly indifferent to his fate, but in the last week he has begun worrying, and is losing flesh and strength rapidly. He refuses to eat, and is forced to take barely enough food to prevent starvation. He is given stimulants, but they have only temporary effect. His breakdown came suddenly, when he began crying and begging for mercy. The prison officials say they never had a doomed man who collapsed so suddenly.

A Remarkable Transaction.

Indianapolis, June 23.—Disgusted with his wife, who had left home and eloped with Frank Monaco, a wealthy Italian, and was recently arrested with him in this city during a raid on the Colonial hotel, James Spazzari entered into a contract which will prevent him from suing Monaco for alienation of affections. Fifty dollars was the sum paid by Monaco to have the transaction brought about. Mrs. Spazzari also entered into an agreement to allow her husband to sue for an uncontested divorce and she will pay the costs. All of the parties are well-to-do Chicago Italians.

Ended a Life of Despair.

Indianapolis, June 23.—Before killing himself, E. F. Cody, a bartender in L. Brown's barrel-house, wrote and mailed a letter to Brown, telling him that his body would be found at his room and that he desired it turned over to the medical colleges. Cody had killed himself by taking poison. He was about thirty-five years old. In the letter Cody said he had tried to stop drinking no fewer than a thousand times, and had failed each time.

A Bloody Record.

Indianapolis, June 23.—The grand jury in its final report for the month of June and for the January term, returned indictments for murder as follows: Ella Hicks, for killing Joseph Hiddings; Thomas Hale, for killing Thomas Seibert; Pendell Pope, colored, for killing his wife; William Williams, colored, for killing Thomas Howard, colored; Estell McLatching, colored, for killing Timothy Stapleton, white.

Preferred Death to Disgrace.

Indianapolis, June 23.—With disgrace staring him in the face, after the discovery of his alleged infidelity to his wife, Dr. Lucian A. Lowden, a North Indianapolis physician, swallowed a quantity of poison and died in his office. A few minutes before taking the poison, Mrs. Lowden found her husband in the office with Miss Luella Holland, a young woman to whom he had been paying attention.

A Fifty-year Franchise.

Huntington, Ind., June 23.—The Huntington county commissioners have granted a franchise to the Portland, Montpelier, Warren & Huntington Traction company, which proposes to build between Portland and this city. The company is to secure private right-of-way and build its own bridges. Its franchise is for fifty years.

Defendant Won Out.

Delphi, Ind., June 23.—The $5,000 damage suit of Fred Burk against Dr. Parker Justice for the alleged alienation of his wife's affections, went to the jury and a verdict was reached in favor of the defendant. The case was bitterly contested.

Drowned in Pond.

Vernon, Ind., June 23.—Elmer Kinner, a young man of Grayford, was drowned in the pond reserved by the railroad company to supply their engines, known as the Grayford pond.

Kidney Diseases Worst of All.

How to Cure These Dangerous and Fatal Maladies.

No one can afford to let a kidney disease continue unchecked a moment after he has discovered its presence. This is especially true of Bright's disease, the most dangerous and fatal of all. The treacherous manner in which it attacks its victims enables it to become firmly established before its presence is discovered. Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure never fails, and is guaranteed to cure inflammation of the kidneys, congestions, Bright's disease in its early stages, brick dust deposits, cloudy urine, pain in the back and kidneys, retention and incontinence of urine, bed wetting, diseases of the bladder and urinary tract, sexual weakness, both men and women. Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure is guaranteed to give satisfaction or money will be refunded. It is for sale at $1.00 a bottle for $5.00 only 50c. per bottle. Many More Bodies Found.

New York, June 23.—Although a week has elapsed since the steamer General Slocum went to destruction on North Brother Island, the bodies of its victims continue to be found in the waters adjacent to the scene of the disaster. Yesterday thirty-seven came to the surface, making the total number recovered 883. Of these 778 have been identified. Despite the fact that the police are bending every energy toward getting a complete list of those who went on the ill-fated excursion, definite figures as to the number missing cannot be given. From present indications, however, it is apparent that the death-roll will total nearly a thousand. Today nearly 100 policemen who speak German began a house to house canvass for the purpose of verifying the list of the missing.

A government commission has been appointed to investigate the disaster to the General Slocum, near Hell Gate in the East river, wherein more than 800 lives were lost.

It is reported that two Russian destroyers and the steamer Shin-Tai-Ping struck mines and were destroyed at the entrance to Port Arthur harbor. One hundred and forty Russians were drowned.

ONE STEP MORE

Will be fatal to the sleep-walker. Will he draw back or will he take the final, fatal step? A great mass of people are in peril like the sleep-walker. They are close to the edge of disaster. The time comes when one more step away from health is fatal. The man who has suffered from indigestion or gastric trouble goes some night to a dinner and returns home to find he has taken that last step from health which can never be taken back.

To neglect the cure of indigestion or some other form of stomach trouble is dangerous. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It purifies the blood, stimulates the liver, cures biliousness, and eliminates bilious poisons from the system.

"The praise I would like to give you 'Golden Medical Discovery' I cannot utter in words of describe with pen," writes Jas. B. Ambrose, Esq., of 1205 1/2 Milford St., Huntington, Pa. "I was taken with what your physicians said was indigestion. I doctored with the best around here and found no relief. I wrote you, and you advised me to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took three bottles and I felt so good that I stopped—being cured. I have no symptoms of gastric trouble or indigestion now."

If you ask your dealer for "Golden Medical Discovery" because you have confidence in its cures, do not allow yourself to be "justified out" to a medicine claimed to be "just as good," but which you did not ask for and of which you know nothing.

SENATOR FAIRBANKS.

in a ringing speech. Said people trusted him as a President and love him as a man and will elect him because he does things, not merely discusses. Great applause follows his speech.

11:57—Geo. A. Knight, of California, seconds the nomination. He is followed by Harry Stillwell Edwards, of Georgia, Jos. B. Cotton, of Minnesota, and Harry S. Cummings, the noted orator of Maryland.

1:15—New Jersey asks unanimous consent for convention to dispense with further roll call and nominate by acclamation, which did not meet with favor and the roll call continued.

1:21—Roll call concluded with no name mentioned but that of Roosevelt who received the entire vote of the convention, 994 votes, and was declared the unanimous choice of the convention.

1:30—Senator Dolliver, of Iowa, places Senator Chas. W. Fairbanks in nomination for vice president. At the mention of Fairbank's name the convention was wild with enthusiasm. Senator Depew, of New York, seconded the nomination of Fairbanks.

1:55—Governor Pennybaker, of Pennsylvania, seconded the nomination of Senator Fairbanks and was followed by former Senator Carter, of Montana.

2:20—Senator Fairbanks is nominated for vice-president by acclamation after announcement of withdrawal of other candidates.

2:25—A resolution was passed naming Jos. G. Cannon chairman of the committee to notify Roosevelt of his nomination on July 17, and Elihu Root, chairman of the committee to nominate Senator Fairbanks of his nomination on August 3.

2:30—Convention adjourned sine die.

EPWORTH LEAGUE

District Convention Now in Session Here.

The Epworth League convention of the Seymour M. E. district began a two days session at the Methodist church in this city last evening. The attendance from over the district is good and the Seymour congregation is well represented at all the sessions.

The program for last evening was carried out except that Rev. W. G. Clinton, of New Albany, who was to preach was sick and Rev. G. D. Wolfe, of Columbus, supplied his place very acceptably. Sacramental services were conducted by Presiding Elder Baxter.

The reception at the parsonage at the conclusion of the program was greatly enjoyed by all.

The first session today was a praise service at 6 o'clock conducted by Rev. S. J. Cross, of Henryville. At 8 o'clock there was a cabinet meeting, which was followed by reports and a number of profitable discussions.

The meeting this afternoon was well attended and much interest was manifested in the papers and discussions. The address of Rev. C. C. Bonnell on his trip to the holy land was looked forward to with unusual interest.

The program for this evening and tomorrow is as follows:

THURSDAY EVENING

REFORM MEASURES

Enacted by General Assembly During Past Decade.

DISCUSSED BY PRESIDENT PERKINS

Indiana Has Attained a Reputation for the Enforcement of the Labor Laws

Upon the Statute Books of the State—Politics Has Played No Part in Affairs of Factory Inspection Department.

Reference has before been made in the columns of this paper to the many labor reform measures enacted in Indiana during the last nine years of Republican supremacy in legislative affairs. An article contributed by Mr. Edgar A. Perkins, president of the Indiana Federation of Labor, to the Indianapolis Star, furnishes additional evidence to show what has been accomplished along this line since the accession of the Republican party to responsibility in Indiana in 1895, and this evidence is strengthened by the fact that President Perkins is a Democrat. He says:

The report of the Department of Inspection, just issued by Inspector McAbee, shows the strides that have been made in the last few years in the curtailment of child labor in this state. While this feature of industrial life is not all that it should be, it is at present so much better than it was a few years ago that the advocates of legislation for the retarding of child labor have hope that the future will see more accomplished than has the past.

The present inspection department, although hampered by littleness of appropriation and in the number of deputies, has done much to bring the state forward in its reputation for the class of labor laws that prevail.

A Reputation for Enforcement.

Indiana, while it has not so many laws in the interest of labor as have some of the Eastern states, has a name for the enforcement of those that are on the books second to none. The inspection force at the present consists of one inspector and five deputies, who are expected to attend to all the work that comes under the department. At the last session of the legislature an effort to have the force increased was defeated.

Compared with the forces employed in other states, the inspection force employed in this state is small and the amount of money expended in its maintenance is not to be compared with that of many others. Yet, in the number of inspections to be made and the territory to be covered, there is not such a great difference.

It is contended by those who have been instrumental in bringing the law to its present point that unless there is some means of compelling an impartial enforcement of the factory laws an injustice would be done, and especially would this be so in so far as child labor was concerned. It was largely for this reason that an increase in the inspection force has been advocated.

It is pointed out that this state has become one of the big manufacturing centers of the country and that it is sure to cost more for the enforcement of factory laws from year to year.

Is Now Five Years Old.

The inspection department has now been in existence a little over five years, having been created by the legislature of 1897, during the term of Governor Mount, who appointed D. H. McAbee, the present inspector. The first force consisted of Mr. McAbee and one assistant, who was expected to do the office work and keep up his end of the outside work. The law at that time was not materially different from the present one, and the inspection department did not accomplish in its first two years as much as its friends had hoped for. It did, however, demonstrate the necessity for its existence, and at the following session of the legislature not much opposition was encountered in the effort to increase the efficiency of the department.

Again, at the following session, an increase was secured, but many of the members of the last legislature were of the opinion that the end had been reached. And, strange to say, the opposition did not come from the rural districts, but from the representatives from the cities. The matter, however, will not be dropped, and an effort will be made between now and the next session of the legislature to create a public sentiment in favor of further increasing the efficiency of this department.

Results of the Law.

Through its efforts many children have been taken out of the factories, the sanitary conditions have been wonderfully improved, accidents have been reduced and in connection with the truant authorities hundreds of children have been placed in school that would otherwise have been denied the benefits of education.

The law is originally the effort of the trade union movement in this state. Such legislation was among the first asked by the State Federation of Labor, but it was not until the early '90's that a systematic effort was made to secure its passage.

In the spring of 1892 the secretary of the Indianapolis Central Labor Union secured copies of the New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts factory acts and out of these original Indiana act was drafted. The late Captain Silas Shepard drew the bill.

At the meeting of the State Federation in the same year the bill was introduced as one of the measures to be put forward by the legislative committee, and was introduced at the next session of the legislature. It was defeated, as was its fate at the next session. By 1897, however, there was a sentiment in its favor, and it passed without as much opposition as had been anticipated.

Law Has Been a Benefit.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if a grain of sand settles at the bottom, it is evidence of kidney trouble; frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also a dangerous sign of disorder.

There is comfort in the knowledge, as often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, finds a way in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every ailment of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold water and scaling pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extra-ordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., of Swamp-Root, Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Sued by His Doctor.

"A doctor here has sued me for $12.50, which I claimed was excessive for a case of cholera morbus," says R. White, of Coachella, Cal. "At the trial he praised his medical skill and medicine I asked him if it was not Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy he used as I had good reason to believe it was, and he would not say under oath that it was not." No doctor could use a better remedy than this in a case of cholera morbus, it never fails. Sold by C. W. Milhous.

UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

Terms of County Officers Can Not be Extended by Legislature.

Discussion and controversy over the act of the general assembly of Feb. 11, 1903, providing for the postponement of the elections of a large number of county officers, so that their terms might begin on the first day of January, has been brought to a close by a decision of the supreme court declaring the act unconstitutional.

The case decided was that of William H. Stephens, republican candidate for treasurer of Warren county, against Frederick L. Gemmer, chairman, and Chester G. Rossiter, secretary of republican central committee of that county and brought from Warren circuit court on appeal. It was one of two test cases brought to the supreme court to determine the constitutionality of the law.

Mr. Stephens was denied a certificate of nomination by the county committee to the board of election commissioners because the act in question provided that no successor to Peter Fleming, now treasurer of the county, should or could be elected this year, and not until the general election of 1906. Stephens brought suit and was granted an alternative writ requiring the chairman and secretary of the committee to insert his name in the proper certificate as the republican nominee for treasurer of the county.

In handing down its decision the supreme court said: "The office being constitutional and elective, the voters of the county are authorized to fill it at the first opportunity given under the constitution. This right can not be taken away from them by legislation, either directly or indirectly, by an act postponing the choice of officers named until a general election at which they might be elected has passed."

The opinion was written by Judge Dowling, with none of the judges dissenting.

If the new law had stood the test W. W. Isaacs would have had an extra year added to his present term.

"There's Many a Slip Twixt Cup and Lip."

This old adage holds good in many things, but especially so in buying lenses in the average way. Ordinarily you buy glasses already made, or from some one who fits your eyes according to what you say, and after you have looked through numerous lenses in the so-called examinations you accept one that you think is good, and after you have it fixed up, it is not right. Why not have people who know how, make your examinations and lenses, who guarantee satisfaction or your money back? The best is surely the cheapest in this case. Our Language.

It is said, you know, that our language is the most intricate in the world. You will understand how true this is if you read the following: A sleeper is one who sleeps. A sleeper is that in which a sleeper sleeps. A sleeper is that on which the sleeper runs while the sleeper sleeps. Therefore while the sleeper sleeps in the sleeper the sleeper carries the sleeper over the sleeper, under the sleeper, until the sleeper which carries the sleeper jumps the sleeper and wakes the sleeper in the sleeper, by striking the sleeper on the sleeper and there is no longer any sleeper sleeping on the sleeper in the sleeper.—Ex.

READY FOR BATTLE

Japanese and Russians Preparing for Big Engagement.

Tokio, June 23.—A division of the army under General Oku occupied Hsiling Yao yesterday without opposition.

St. Petersburg, June 23.—The imminence of a battle in the northern part of the Liao Yang peninsula is admitted by the war office and is indicated succinctly in dispatches from correspondents at Liao Yang, Kaiping and other points on the railroad.

The week of skirmishing around Shinyen retarded General Kuraki's operations, permitting General Stakelberg to reach Kaiping, the rear guard slowly falling back on Senchen before the Japanese advance. Meanwhile large forces are hurrying south from Liao Yang to check both General Oku
and General Kuraki.

It is believed here that General Kuropatkin's object is to prevent a juncture of the Japanese armies. On the other hand, the aim of the Japanese apparently is to drive the Russians out of the Liao Yang peninsula preparatory to a march on Liao Yang. The approach of the rainy season will more than likely precipitate matters.

Nothing is known officially of the occupation of Hsiling Yao by the Japanese. If the report should be correct it agrees substantially with the Japanese plan of advance as it is understood here, but it indicates that the Japanese outposts are further forward
than Russian advances indicate.

Triumph of Modern Surgery.

Wonderful things are done for the human body by surgery. Organs are taken out and scraped and polished and put back, or they may be removed entirely; bones are spliced; pipes take the place of diseased sections of vein;
antiseptic dressings are applied to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, which causes them to heal without maturation and in one-third the time required by the old treatment. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soothes the inflamed parts and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering with injuries entail. For sale by C.

BROWNSTOWN.

Saturday afternoon as Ferris Robertson, son of Edward Robertson, was going to the farm over the river with the team hitched to a cultivator the horse became frightened and ran away, running into an electric light pole just west of the railroad. Ferris was riding on the cultivator and was thrown against the pole and a bolt penetrated
his flesh near the ankle and his leg was broken in two places near the ankle. He was taken to his home and all that could be done for him.
He is seriously hurt and will probably be a cripple if he recovers. He has the sympathy of all his friends and they wish him a speedy recovery.

Tablets Better than any Doctor's Prescription.

Mr. J. W. Turner, of Trubart, Va., says that Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets have done him more good than anything he could get from the doctor. If any physician in this county was able to compound a medicine that would produce such gratifying results in cases of stomach trouble billsousness or constipation, his whole time would be used in preparing this one medicine. For sale by C. W. Mil-

VALLONIA.

Listen!—Vallonia is preparing a program for one of the grandest celebrations they ever had before and have had some pretty good ones too. It will be given under the auspices of the K of P. lodge, No. 439. Everybody invited to look at the large posters for prizes and amusements.

George Humphrey, an old and respected citizen of this place and the rural mail carrier on route 1, met with quite a painful accident while on his way home from town which is about one half mile in the country. His horse became frightened and ran away. Mr. Humphrey jumped out of the buggy on the hard pike road and broke his leg just above the ankle, also throwing the ankle on same leg out of place. Dr. M. V. Wilson, of Medina, and Drs. Yost and Abel were called to attend him and he is getting along very nicely considering his age.

STATE PRIDE STIRRED

Indians Preparing to Give Fair
banks a Great Reception.

Indianapolis, June 23.—Preparations were begun today here for a reception
to be accorded Senator Fairbanks
when he returns from the national convention as the Republican nominee for vice president. Indianapolis Republicans are thoroughly alive to the honor that has come to their distinguished fellow citizen, and through him to the city and state, and to show their appreciation they are planning that the senator's homecoming shall be signalized by a demonstration in which there shall be condensed more real enthusiasm than was manifested during the entire convention at Chicago. The Columbia Club and the Marion Club are taking the initiative in the arrangements, but little of a definite nature has yet been done owing to the fact that it is not known just when Senator
Fairbanks will return. If he leaves Chicago immediately after the close of the convention today the reception will necessarily be of an informal character, owing to the short notice upon which it must be arranged, but if he remains in Chicago two or three days in order to hold a conference with the new national committee, as the press
dispatches have indicated he may do,
a more pretentious demonstration will be worked up. Whether carefully planned or of a spontaneous nature,
it is certain that the reception that will be accorded Senator Fairbanks
by his neighbors, friends and fellow-townsmen will be cordial, sincere and earnest, indicative of the high regard in which he is held by all who know him or know of him. Pride of city and of state will lead Democrats to join in the demonstration, for when such honor comes to an Indiana man Indiana people, irrespective of party affiliations, share in the honor.

It has been many a year since the political situation in Indiana was replete with such interest as attaches to the approaching great struggle. It has been twelve years since the state has had a candidate on the national ticket of either party. This year Indiana has the Republican nominee for vice president, and in addition it is possible that the Democrats may turn to Hoosierdom to furnish their candidate for second place. In addition an Indian, Captain Harry S. New, will probably be the vice chairman of the Republican national committee, while the Democrats of the state are more than hopeful that they will furnish the national chairman for their party in the person of Thomas Taggart. Further to contribute to the interest of the campaign the coming general assembly will have two United States senators to elect in event of the election of the Republican national ticket, and the struggle for Senator Fairbanks' seat bids fair to be the liveliest and most interesting the state has known since the memorable legislative session of 1897. It is looked upon as certain that Congressman Hemenway, Governor Durbin and Congressman C.
B. Landis will be candidates for the senatorial toga to be relinquished by Mr. Fairbanks, while Congressman
Crumpacker, George F. McCullough,
Addison C. Harris and George A. Cunningham are spoken of as possible and prospective aspirants. The fact that the Indianapolis News came out yesterday with an editorial declaration
favoring Congressman Hemenway's candidacy is taken as evidence that no time is to be lost in opening an aggressive campaign, and that it will have some unusual features. It has been known for some time that Governor Durbin and his friends were working quietly in the making of Republican legislative candidates on the assumption that the nomination of Senator Fairbanks for vice president was assured, and it is reported that they have made progress that will surprise the other candidates when they take up the contest in grim earnest.

The nomination of Senator Fairbanks for second place on the Republican ticket is no surprise to the people of Indiana, for it has been evident
for six months that the trend of party sentiment was unmistakably in his direction and that he would be the nominee unless he summarily declined to be considered in that connection, making his refusal as emphatic as that of Speaker Cannon. The senator has been criticized and even ridiculed in some quarters because of the non-committal attitude he maintained, but it is generally conceded now that his course
was the only wise and dignified one.
He took the stand that the vice presidential nomination was one that should seek the man, rather than the man the nomination, and the wisdom of his position has now been fully borne out. Had he become an avowed candidate for the preferment a fight would have been inevitable in spite of the preponderance of the sentiment for him, and, winning or losing, the senator would have been weakened politically by such a contest.

SHOCKING DOMESTIC TRAGEDY.

Ludington, Minn., June 23.—Reimer Smith, aged thirty-four, shot and instantly killed his young wife, who was living on a nearby farm. As the woman fell a ten-months-old babe
dropped from her arms to the ground.
Instantly the infuriated man put a bullet through the infant's head with fatal results. He then turned the weapon upon himself, inflicting a wound from which he died in a few hours.

Perker Wins in Texas.

San Antonio, Tex., June 23.—The state Democratic convention has finished its business. One of the strongest delegations ever elected in this state was chosen and instructed to vote for Judge Parker and to vote as a unit on all questions.

DRIFTING TOWARDS BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Many people who are neglecting symptoms of kidney trouble, hoping "it will wear away," are drifting towards Bright's Disease, which is kidney trouble in one of its worst forms.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE

stops irregularities, strengthens the urinary organs and builds up the worn-out tissues of the kidneys so they will perform their functions properly. Healthy kidneys strain out the impurities from the blood as it passes through them. Diseased kidneys do not, and the poisonous waste matter is carried by the circulation to every part of the body, causing dizziness, backache, stomach trouble, sluggish liver, irregular heart action, etc. If you have any signs of Kidney or Bladder Trouble commence taking FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE at once, as it will cure a slight disorder in a few days and prevent a fatal malady. It is pleasant to take and benefits the whole system.

How to Find Out.

You can easily determine if your kidneys are out of order by setting aside for 24 hours a bottle of the urine passed upon arising. If upon examination it is cloudy or milky or has a brick-dust sediment or small particles float about in it, your kidneys are diseased, and FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE should be taken at once.

G. B. Burhans Testifies After Four Years.

G. B. Burhans of Carlisle Center, N. Y., writes:
"About four years ago I wrote you stating that I had been entirely cured of a severe kidney trouble by taking less than two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure. It entirely stopped the brick-dust sediment and pain and symptoms of kidney disease disappeared. I am glad to say that I have never had a return of any of those symptoms during the four years that have elapsed, and I am evidently cured to stay cured, and heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Cure to any one suffering from kidney or bladder trouble."
